Acknowledgement:

I extend my sincere appreciation to the Department of Personnel and Training for granting me the invaluable opportunity to partake in the mandatory training program at the esteemed MCRHRD Institute of Telangana. Additionally, I am deeply grateful to Smt. Usha Rani, the Course Director at MCRHRD, whose unwavering support has been instrumental throughout.

My heartfelt thanks go to Mr. Sukumar Rao, Senior Faculty and Bharat Darshan Coordinator, for his invaluable guidance, continuous supervision, and provision of essential project-related information. His assistance has been pivotal in the successful completion of our project.

Participating in the group activities during our excursion to Tamil Nadu, Puducherry, and Karnataka was indeed a remarkable experience. I found great value in the NGO attachment and the enlightening visit to the Tea-cum-Chocolate Factory, where I gained invaluable insights.

I must also express my profound gratitude to the Director General of MCRHRD for providing the requisite support, which has been instrumental in ensuring the success of our study tour.

Objective of the Tour

As part of the mandatory ISTM Phase-1 Foundation Training Programme for Assistant Section Officers (ASOs) of 2023 Batch, 01-week Bharat Darshan was organized from 28.04.2024 to 04.05.2024 at Tamil Nadu-Puducherry-Karnataka under the guidance of Dr. Sukumar Rao, Senior Faculty (FTP).

Sight Seeing In Tamil Nadu, Puducherry And Karnataka

Krishna's Butterball (Mahabalipuram)

- The Krishna's butterball is a giant balancing rock, 5 meters in diameter, perched on a smooth slope, seemingly defying all laws of physics. It weighs over 250 tons and miraculously stands on an extremely small, slippery area of a hill.
- This monolithic granite rock found in Mahabalipuram, India. Its original name is Vaan Irai Kal. In Tamil language, the original language of the land, it means "Stone of The Sky God".
- The rock is balanced upon a 4 feet area of the hill and is perilously resting at an angle of 45 degrees. The base of the rock is firmly attached to the hill below. This rock is bigger and heavier than the monolithic stones of Ollantaytambo, Peru. It is also much bigger than the rocks found in the mysterious Machu Picchu.
- In Hindu mythology Lord Krishna had an insatiable appetite for butter, and as a child, would often sneak a handful from his mother's butter jar. Situated on a hill slope near the Ganesh Ratha this massive natural rock boulder is attributed to a bolus of butter the young Krishna would steal.
- It's a common sight to see visitors placing hands under the stone posing for pics, which looks as though they are holding it! The rock provides welcome shade if you dare to sit underneath it, and local kids have discovered that the slippery nearby hillside also makes a great natural slide.

Pancha Rathas (Mahabalipuram)

- A Pancha Rathas (also known as Five Rathas or Pandava Rathas or Ainthinai kovil) is a monument complex at Mahabalipuram, on the Coromandel Coast of the Bay of Bengal, in the Kancheepuram district of the state of Tamil Nadu, India. Pancha Rathas is an example of monolithic Indian rock-cut architecture. The complex was initially thought to have carved during the reign of King Narasimhavarman I (630–668 CE.) However, historians such as Nagaswamy attributed all of monuments in Mahabalipuram to Narasimhavarman II (c. 690–725 CE) with the discovery of new inscriptions. The complex is under the auspices of the Archaeological Survey of India (ASI) and is part of the UNESCO World Heritage site inscribed by UNESCO as Group of Monuments at Mahabalipuram.

- Each of the five monuments in the Pancha Rathas complex resembles a chariot (ratha), and each is carved over a single, long stone or monolith, of granite which slopes in north–south direction with a slight incline. Though sometimes mistakenly referred to as temples, the structures were never consecrated because they were never completed following the death of Narasimhavarman I. The structures are named after the Pancha Pandavas and their common wife Draupadi, of epic Mahabharata fame. In order of their size, they include the Dharmaraja Ratha, Bhima Ratha, Arjuna Ratha, Nakula Sahadeva Ratha, and Draupadi Ratha.

Auroville (Puducherry)

- Auroville is a universal township in the making for a population of up to 50,000 people from around the world. The concept of Auroville - an ideal township devoted to an experiment in human unity - came to the Mother as early as the 1930s. In the mid 1960s, the concept was developed and put before the Govt. of India, who gave their backing and took it to the General Assembly of UNESCO. In 1966 UNESCO passed a unanimous resolution commending it as a project of importance to the future of humanity, thereby giving their full encouragement.
- The purpose of Auroville is to realise human unity – in diversity. Today Auroville is recognised as the first and only internationally endorsed ongoing experiment in human unity and transformation of consciousness, also concerned with - and practically researching into - sustainable living and the future cultural, environmental, social and spiritual needs of mankind.

- At the centre stands the Matrimandir, the "soul of the city", a place for individual silent concentration, in an oval shaped Peace Area surrounded by a lake. Radiating out beyond the lake are four Zones - the Industrial (north), Cultural (north east), Residential (south/south west) and International (west) - each focusing on an important aspect of the town's life. Surrounding the township will be a Green Belt consisting of forested areas, farms and sanctuaries.

Paradise Beach(Puducherry)

- Paradise beach is a great spot to reach early morning and get a view of the sunrise on the eastern coast. A variety of water sports facilities are available here as well. The travellers can try fishing as well. Fishing rods and nets are easily available for rent.
- It's a place for family picnics, solo travellers or if you looking for a quiet time by yourself.
- The island is very well maintained, the shore is clean and water is calm, with soft waves. There is changing rooms and toilets on the island. Also few shacks serve quick bites and lunch. You can also carry home cooked food and beers.
- The shore is quite vast, so do carry things to entertain, good place to play football, Frisbee or just a run. The place has lots of palm trees so one can relax and take out their picnic bags for lunch, can easily spend 3 – 4 hours. Best time to go is in the first half of the day.

Conclusion and Learnings

The study tour was an amazing experience for all of us. We got to see and learn so much about India's diversity, history, culture, and nature.

During the tour, we learned about how India has both old and new things, rural and city life, and rich and poor people, all living together. We were fascinated by India's beautiful monuments, temples, forts, and more, which tell stories of its rich past.

Exploring India's different landscapes, like forests, mountains, rivers, and deserts, was incredible. We also learned about the challenges and opportunities in different parts of the country.

The tour helped us improve our teamwork, time management, and problem-solving skills. Plus, we made some great friends along the way.

We want to thank everyone who made this tour possible, from the organizers to our fellow travelers. We're excited to use what we learned in our future adventures and maybe even visit these places again. Jai Hind!
