- Is it inherently bad???
- Is it something avoidable???

- The answer is NO...
- Why???
- Because-
 - India is a diverse country and it is bound to have regional interests and affiliation.

Focus Area: Regionalism

- So when it becomes bad???
- It becomes bad when people start focusing on regional interests at the cost of national interests.

Focus Area: Communalism

- The three basic premises are:
- (1) Belief that people who follow the same religion has common political, economic, cultural and social interests,
- (2) Belief in a notion that in a multi-religious society like India, the common interests of the followers of one religion are dissimilar and divergent from the interests of the followers of another religion, and
- (3) Belief that the interests of the followers of different religions or different communities are seen to be mutually incompatible, antagonistic and hostile”.

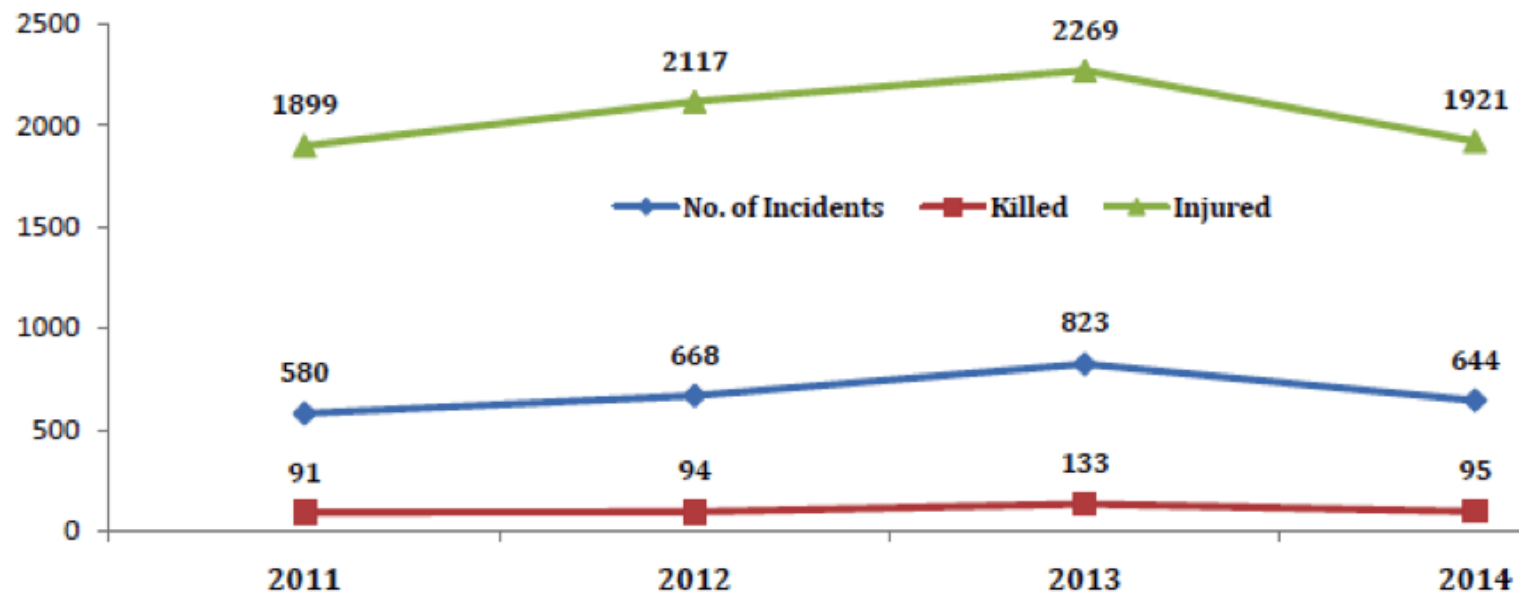

Causes:

Communal Incidents in India (2011 - 2014)

- According to the Ministry of Home Affairs, a total of 2715 communal incidents occurred in the country from 2011 to 2014. This is an average of 57 incidents a month. Eight states Bihar, Gujarat, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Rajasthan & Uttar Pradesh account for close to 85% of all the incidents. These states were ruled by various different parties and not a single party. Eight states did not report a single such incident in these four years. Seven of the Eight North Eastern states did not report a single communal incident.

- Of the 35 States/UTs of India, only eight (8) states accounted for close to 85% of all the communal incidents in the country. Bihar, Gujarat, Karnataka, Kerala, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Rajasthan & Uttar Pradesh are part of this group. It is also interesting to note that these states are from all the regions of country. Karnataka & Kerala are from the South, Gujarat & Maharashtra are from the West, Rajasthan & Uttar Pradesh from the North, Bihar from the East & Madhya Pradesh from Central India. What is interesting is that, these eight states were ruled by different parties during this period. The Congress, BJP, NCP, SP, BSP ruled these states at various points in time.

Way Forward.....

- More of a psychological and moral problem than a law and order problem.
- Hence needs to be tackled on two fronts:
 - Strong Laws and better conviction
 - Inculcate the spirit of Nationalism and Secularism in the Society.

small things grow,
lack of it makes
great things decay.
